A DATE TO SKATE ▲

Jewellery company Tiffany & Co is sponsoring the annual Skate at Somerset House. As well as a tuck shop, there's "Breakfast with Tiffany" for families every Saturday morning through December. When an adult buys a ticket, a child goes free, with a cupcake and hot drink afterwards. Tickets, £12.50 (0844 8471520, www.ticketmaster.co.uk); ice-skate pendant and chain, £135 (www.tiffany.com).

RETAIL THERAPY JANE TAYLOR-HAYHURST

SHOP OF THE WEEK

In these times when, sadly, buying fine jewellery is way down the list for some of us, take heart that if you can't afford a fabulous piece of your own, you can rent it from the glittering www.rentyourrocks.com. Brilliant for special occasions, this spectacular collection of necklaces, rings, bracelets (below) and earrings has pieces to cater for all tastes, at a snip of the price. Earrings rental starts at £50 per week.

JEANS GENIUS

Sticking with the same pair of jeans just because they fit isn't all that much fun. Step forward Jfour, a new denim label from Italy with the excellent choice of three different styles in three different washes, with a choice of ten yarns, so you can select a combination that's perfect. £99 from Harvey Nichols (020-7235 5000).

HOT STUFF

This week's bestsellers, from left: Mary-Janes, £360, Chanel (020-7493 5040); tops, £25 each, Topshop (0845 1214519); cropped trousers, £110, Reiss (020-7473 9630).
